Congratulations on being part of a talent search program and taking the ACT® test. Information regarding your participation in the talent search and taking the ACT is summarized in this document.

TEST OPTIONS
- The ACT (no writing) is made up of four multiple-choice tests in English, mathematics, reading, and science.
- The ACT with writing includes the four multiple-choice tests plus a 40-minute writing test.
Note: You are not required to take the writing test to participate in the talent search. However, if you would like to take the writing test, please contact ACT Student Services before the late registration deadline for your requested test date.

ACT ADMISSION TICKET
- Prior to the test date you chose, ACT will mail you an admission ticket.
- Read both sides of your admission ticket carefully.
- Your registered test date and test option are listed at the top of your admission ticket.
- If you need to make any changes, call ACT Student Services as soon as possible.
- If you have not received your admission ticket or you need to request a duplicate, contact ACT Student Services by phone no later than 8:00 p.m. central time on the Friday prior to your test date.

REQUIRED IDENTIFICATION
Before being admitted to test on test day, you are required to present both:

Your printed ACT admission ticket
AND
Acceptable identification

For a complete list of acceptable forms of identification, visit www.actstudent.org. If you fail to bring your required identification you will not be allowed to test.

ACT STUDENT WEB ACCOUNT
- Students who are 13 years or older can make changes to their registration and print their admission ticket online. To do so, go to www.actstudent.org and establish a free ACT student web account.
- Due to Internet privacy laws, students 12 years or younger cannot establish an ACT web account, even if their parents assist them. For assistance with registration changes or a new admission ticket, call ACT Student Services.
PREPARING FOR THE ACT

- Talent search agencies do not recommend students take part in excessive test preparation.
- It is sufficient to be familiar with the structure of the test and general test-taking tips (such as guessing strategies).
- You can download a copy of Preparing for the ACT from the "2. Prepare for the Test" section under the NUMATS Info tab of the online MyCTD Toolbox. In addition, you are encouraged to read Center for Talent Development's The 2016 Student Guide: Participating in NUMATS, also available in that same section of the online MyCTD Toolbox.

CALCULATORS

The ACT calculator policy is designed to ensure fairness for all examinees, avoid disturbances in the testing room, and protect the security of the test materials.

- A permitted calculator may be used on the ACT mathematics test only.
- It is your responsibility to know whether your calculator is permitted.

For a complete description of the ACT calculator policy, visit www.actstudent.org or call 800.498.6481 for a recorded message.

These Terms and Conditions are the terms of an agreement between the person who will take the ACT® assessment ("you") and ACT, Inc. These Terms and Conditions apply to every administration of the ACT (including National testing, International testing, State and District testing, Special testing, Arranged testing, DANTEs testing and Residual testing), except where, and only to the extent that, you are provided with different guidelines and rules issued by ACT, Inc. Please read these Terms and Conditions carefully. By registering for and/or taking the ACT, you are agreeing to these Terms and Conditions.

Special Instructions for the ACT taken online: All references to answer sheets or answer documents in these Terms and Conditions refer to your responses on the ACT taken online, and all references to test booklets and test-related documents include the ACT taken online and all related test materials provided in paper or electronic form.

Privacy Policy and Notice of Collection of Personally Identifying Information
ACT collects personally identifying information when you register for one of our assessments and our processing of such information, including collection, use, transfer, and disclosure is described in the ACT Privacy Policy (www.act.org/privacy.html).

Notice to International Examinees: Your personally identifying information may be transferred outside of your home country to the United States to ACT or a third party service provider for processing and will be subject to use and disclosure under the laws of the United States. It may also be accessible to law enforcement and national security authorities in the United States. You voluntarily register for or take an ACT assessment and in doing so you provide personally identifying information to us, some of which is mandatory. If you do not provide certain personally identifying information which is mandatory, such as name, gender, address and date of birth, you may not be able to complete your registration for the ACT assessment. For a full description of our Privacy Policy and practices please review the ACT Privacy Policy (www.act.org/privacy.html). When you register for an ACT assessment, you consent to the ACT Privacy Policy, which is incorporated into these Terms and Conditions by reference, including consenting to the collection of personally identifying information and its subsequent use and disclosure. Any questions about the ACT Privacy Policy or this notice should be directed to our Data Protection Official, Vice President, Data Management at DPO@act.org.

Test Security Procedures
ACT test security procedures are designed to ensure that you have an equal opportunity to demonstrate your academic achievement and skills, that you do your own work, and that scores reported for you are valid.

ACT may prohibit you from taking the ACT, even if you have already registered for the exam, if ACT reasonably believes: (1) you may have engaged in prohibited behavior in connection with a prior administration of the ACT, (2) you may intend to engage in prohibited behaviors in the future, (3) you may have provided false or misleading information to ACT, or (4) you may be working for test preparation providers.

By registering for and/or taking the ACT, you represent and warrant to ACT that the information you have provided to ACT is true; that you agree to be bound by, and will comply with, these Terms and Conditions and ACT policies for the ACT; that you will not do anything on the list of prohibited behaviors; that you will cooperate with any test security investigation; and that you are not working for any test preparation provider(s).

As part of test registration, you will be required to submit a photo to ACT that meets ACT photo requirements. Your photo will be used for test security purposes such as verifying your identity using image-comparison technologies. Your photo will be placed on your registration ticket, provided to test center staff, and included on the score report that is automatically sent to your high school. You must have the right to submit the photo to ACT, either because you took it or because you have permission to submit it from the person who took it, and you agree that ACT may use your photo for all of the purposes listed in this paragraph and in ACT photo requirements. See the Photo Requirements (www.actstudent.org/register/add-photo.html) page for information about providing your photo.

ACT may cancel your test registration and release your seat if you fail to provide a required photo by the deadline for that test date. If you fail to provide a required photo by the deadline, you may request a test date change, and you will be subject to all test date change policies and fees. You must provide a photo by the photo deadline for the new test date. If you do not request a test date change, your original registration fee will not be refunded.

NOTE: Examinees who are 12 years old or younger are exempt from submitting a photo for registration, but not from bringing acceptable identification to the test center.

Capturing images at Test Centers
ACT may capture images of you at test centers. ACT may retain and analyze all images of you for the purpose of protecting the integrity and security of the testing process, regardless of the source of the photo.

Acceptable Identification
Unless otherwise stated in these Terms and Conditions, ACT generally requires that you show both (1) an admission ticket or a standby ticket, and (2) acceptable identification, to be admitted to a test center. You are responsible for being familiar with ACT requirements for acceptable Identification (www.actstudent.org/faqs/id.html) and having acceptable identification with you on test day. ACT policies are updated from time to time, so make sure that you check for any updates to our acceptable identification requirements before the day of testing. You should contact ACT Student Services (www.actstudent.org/faqs/contact-us.html) with any questions you have about acceptable identification before the day of testing. Test administration staff has sole discretion on test day for determining whether your identification presented for admission is acceptable. If there is evidence that another individual has taken the test for you, your score may be challenged and subsequently cancelled regardless of a staff decision to accept your identification and admit you to the test center.

Special Instructions for State and District testing, Special testing, Arranged testing, and Residual testing: ACT requires that you show acceptable identification to be admitted to the test center, unless testing staff personally recognize you.
Prohibited Behavior at the Test Center

The following behaviors are prohibited. You will be dismissed and your answer document will not be scored if you are found:

- Filling in or altering responses on a test section on your answer sheet or continuing to complete the essay after time has been called on that test section. This means that you cannot make any changes to a test section outside of the designated time for that section, even to fix a stray mark or accidental keystroke.
- Looking back at a test section on which time has already been called.
- Looking ahead in the test booklet.
- Looking at another person’s test booklet or answer document.
- Giving or receiving assistance by any means.
- Discussing or sharing of test content, test form identification numbers, or answers during test administration, during breaks, or after the test is prohibited.
- Using a prohibited calculator (www.actstudent.org/faq/calculator.html).
- Using a calculator on any test section other than Mathematics.
- Sharing a calculator with another person.
- Using a watch with recording, internet, or communication capabilities.
- Using any electronic device at any time during testing or during break other than an approved calculator or watch. All other electronic devices, including cell phones and wearable devices, must be turned off and placed out of reach from the time you are admitted to test until you are dismissed after testing concludes.
- Attempting to memorize test-related information or otherwise remove test materials, including questions or answers, from the test room in any way.
- Using highlight pens, colored pens or pencils, notes, dictionaries, or other aids.
- Using scratch paper (unless an exception applies).
  - Specific instructions will be provided on test day if ACT authorizes you to use scratch paper, including the section(s) on which ACT has authorized its use.
  - If you are permitted to use scratch paper, you may only use paper that ACT has authorized and/or provided to you.
- Not following instructions or abiding by the rules of the test center.
- Exhibiting confrontational, threatening, or unruly behavior; or violating any laws. If ACT suspects you are engaging in criminal activities, such activities will be reported to law enforcement agencies.
- Allowing an alarm to sound in the test room or creating any other disturbance.

All items brought into the test center, such as hats, purses, backpacks, cell phones, calculators, and other electronic devices may be searched at the discretion of ACT and its testing staff. ACT’s and its testing staff may confiscate and retain for a reasonable period of time any item suspected of having been used, or being capable of being used, in violation of this list of prohibited behaviors. ACT may also provide such items to third parties in connection with an investigation conducted by ACT or others. ACT and its testing staff shall not be responsible for lost, stolen, or damaged items.

Non-Scoring and Cancelling Scores

The ACT is intended to be delivered under standardized conditions. If any irregularity is encountered before, during, or after the administration of the test (that is, in the course of the testing process) ACT will decide which of the following actions to take, and its decisions are final: (1) if you engage in suspected or confirmed prohibited behavior, ACT may (a) dismiss you on test day and void your answer document, (b) choose not to score your answer document, or (c) void or cancel your score; (2) initiate an Individual Score Review; (3) declare a Compromise/Disruption in the Testing Process; or (4) determine that your scores were not affected by the irregularity and take no action. Testing irregularities include, but are not limited to: (1) evidence of prohibited behavior on test day, (2) evidence that you may have falsified your identity, (3) impersonation, (4) unusual similarities in the answers of examinees at the same test center, (5) evidence of possible advance access to test content, (6) other indicators that the test scores may not accurately reflect your level of educational achievement, (7) errors in handling or processing registration records, (8) errors in preparing, handling, shipping, or scoring test materials or answer documents, (9) errors in reporting scores, or (10) evidence of other disruptions or compromises in the testing process.

Prohibited Behavior

ACT has sole authority for determining whether to take action regarding prohibited behavior, whether suspected or confirmed, and its decisions are final. If ACT takes action due to prohibited behavior, the individuals who engaged in the prohibited behavior will not have their answer documents scored or will have their scores cancelled; will forfeit their registration for that test date; and will have no right to refunds or appeals.

Individual Score Reviews

ACT reserves the right to cancel test scores when there is reason to believe the scores are invalid. Some types of testing irregularities – such as unusual similarities in the answers of examinees at the same test center, evidence that you may have falsified your identity or impersonated someone else, evidence of possible advance access to test content, or other indicators the test scores may not accurately reflect your level of educational achievement – may result in a review of your scores (an “Individual Score Review”). If there is reason to believe the scores are invalid, ACT may cancel those scores.

If ACT decides to conduct an Individual Score Review, it makes reasonable efforts to notify you if your score is under review. The notice includes information about why ACT has started the Individual Score Review and options available for resolving it. More information regarding the Individual Score Review process will be provided to you if ACT opens an Individual Score Review regarding your score.

For Individual Score Reviews, the final and exclusive remedy available for you to appeal or otherwise challenge a decision by ACT to cancel your test score is binding arbitration through written submissions to the American Arbitration Association (“AAA”), unless both you and ACT agree to submit the matter to an alternative arbitration forum. By agreeing to arbitration, you are waiving your right to have your dispute heard by a judge or jury. Most of the filing fee will be paid by ACT, but you will pay a portion of the fee, as permitted by the AAA’s Consumer Arbitration Rules (or as permitted by the rules of any alternate forum). If you arbitrate a decision by ACT to cancel your test scores, you must pay a nonrefundable filing fee of $200 to the AAA (or alternate forum) as your share of the filing fee. This fee is payable in full when a claim is filed, but will be reimbursed by ACT if you prevail in arbitration and your scores are not cancelled. The only issue for arbitration will be whether ACT acted reasonably and in good faith in deciding to cancel the scores. Proof of misconduct is not required to cancel scores.
Compromises/Disruptions in the Testing Process

ACT takes steps that are intended to ensure that test registrations are correctly processed, and that tests and answer documents are properly handled and scored. In the unlikely event that an error occurs that compromises or disrupts the testing process, ACT will examine the situation and determine whether it needs to take action, including not scoring answer documents or cancelling scores. Compromises or disruptions that could cause ACT to take action include, but are not limited to, errors in the registration process; errors in preparing, handling, shipping, processing, or scoring answer documents; errors in reporting scores; deviations from standard testing procedures such as events that cause testing at a test center to be cancelled or interrupted, or a mistiming on any part of the test; events or information that raise concerns about possible prohibited behavior, advance access to test content by anyone taking the test, or possible invalid scores; unusual data from a test center such as unusual similarities in the answers of people at the same test center; or any events that otherwise disrupt or compromise the testing process. If ACT determines that it needs to take action in response to compromises or disruptions in the testing process, ACT will either correct the error, if ACT believes correction is possible; offer each affected person the option to retake at no additional fee (normally on a future national test date); or offer a refund. Decisions made by ACT regarding compromises or disruptions in the testing process are final. If ACT offers a retest and you select that option (or it is selected for you in State and District testing), you must retake all four multiple-choice tests to produce a valid Composite score. If you took the Writing Test on the original test date, you may also need to retake the Writing Test in addition to the four multiple-choice tests to produce a valid English Language Arts score.

Special Instructions for State and District testing: In the event of compromises/disruptions in the testing process, ACT may offer each affected person the option to retake at no additional fee or it may cancel the test event without an option for retest.

The remedies listed in this Non-Scoring and Cancelling Scores section are the exclusive remedies for anyone affected by irregularities in the testing process, regardless of cause.

It is important that ACT ensure that reported scores are not affected by an irregularity, and that ACT inform anyone who has received a score report that the score may not accurately reflect a person’s academic achievement and skills. You therefore agree that ACT may notify score recipients if there is an investigation into the validity of your reported test score and if your score is cancelled. You also agree that ACT may disclose details about a test security investigation to score recipients and to anyone who may be able to assist with an investigation conducted by ACT, such as law enforcement, state departments of education, and local school officials. You agree that ACT will have no liability for exercising any of these rights.

ACT will not be liable to test takers, schools, school districts, or anyone else for any damages that are caused by or arise from any irregularity, including but not limited to failure by test administration personnel or students to comply with ACT test administration policies or procedures, or that are caused by or arise from the actions of any third parties.

Arbitration

Unless expressly prohibited by an applicable law, all disputes (other than those described above at “Individual Score Reviews” and those relating to infringement of ACT intellectual property) arising out of or relating in any way to registering for or taking the ACT, or requesting accommodations on the ACT test, or the use or disclosure of personal information by ACT, shall be resolved by a single arbitrator through binding arbitration administered by the American Arbitration Association (“AAA”), under the AAA Consumer Rules (“AAA Rules”) in effect at the time a request for arbitration is filed with the AAA. Copies of the AAA Rules can be located at www.adr.org. No arbitration may be maintained as a class action, and the arbitrator shall not have the authority to combine or aggregate the disputes of more than one individual, conduct any class proceeding, make any class award, or make an award to any person or entity not a party to the arbitration. By agreeing to arbitration, you are waiving your right to have your dispute heard by a judge or jury.

Each party will be responsible for its own fees and expenses incurred in connection with any arbitration.

NOTE: Special procedures apply to arbitration proceedings involving Individual Score Reviews. Those procedures are discussed above, under the heading “Individual Score Reviews.” The procedures for Individual Score Reviews override the procedures in this section for Individual Score Reviews only, if they are different from the procedures described in this section.

Health or Safety Concerns

If ACT reasonably suspects that you may pose a danger of harming yourself or others, including based upon the content of your registration materials (including photo submitted), written essay (if applicable), scratch paper, or other materials, we reserve the right to contact the appropriate individuals or agencies, including your high school. ACT also reserves the right to provide the relevant materials, along with your personal information, to those contacted.

Automatic Score Reporting*

Some state/federal scholarship programs or education departments use ACT scores as one source of information to recognize student achievement. ACT reports test scores and other information about you for this purpose without requiring you to use one of your college choices, and at no cost to you. If your mailing address or high school is in one of the states or other categories listed below, your test scores and other information about you will be reported automatically for consideration unless you specifically direct ACT, in writing, not to do so. To direct ACT not to automatically report your scores for this purpose, send a letter postmarked by the Monday immediately after the test date for which you do not want your scores reported. Address your letter to: ACT Institutional Services, P.O. Box 168, Iowa City, IA 52243-0168.

NOTE: This will not affect any other uses of your scores, such as the reporting of scores to the colleges you listed or to your high school, or sending information about you to Educational Opportunity Service recipients if you opted in.

*This section does not apply to Residual testing.

Retest Restriction

You may take the ACT no more than 12 times total. This restriction applies even if your scores from a test date are cancelled by you or by ACT.

Unless you are participating in State and District testing, ACT may cancel your registration, rescind your admission ticket, or take any other steps necessary to enforce this policy. If you violate this restriction, your scores will not be reported or will be cancelled and your fees will not be refunded.

In calculating the 12-test total, ACT makes exceptions for testing required by your district or your state’s Department of Education and tests taken as part of an academic talent search. Other exceptions will be considered only if you submit a request via our online Retest Exception Request Form no later than the regular registration deadline for the test date you would like to be your 13th test date. Exceptions are within the sole discretion of ACT.
ACT Intellectual Property Rights
All ACT tests, test-related documents and electronic materials (if any), and test preparation materials are copyrighted works owned by ACT and protected by the laws of the United States and other countries. Secure tests and test questions are property of ACT and may not be copied or disclosed at any time. You may not copy or distribute any part of any test-related materials that ACT has made available to the general public, such as materials designated or marked by ACT as sample tests, without the prior written approval of ACT. ACT may pursue all available civil and criminal remedies if its intellectual property rights are violated, including seeking damages and/or injunctive relief in a court of law.

ACT owns all answers and answer sheets you submit, as well as all score-related data maintained by ACT. Score reports you receive are your property. However, such reports may not be altered by you or others so as to convey inaccurate or misleading information, and, if the scores reflected on such score reports are cancelled by ACT, may not be provided to third parties.

Changes to These Terms and Conditions
These Terms and Conditions are subject to change for test security reasons, reasons related to changes in applicable laws, or other reasons. When these Terms and Conditions change, ACT will provide notice of the changes by posting the revised Terms and Conditions on its website. Terms and Conditions posted at least forty-eight hours prior to the start of your test will apply to that test date. You agree to be bound by such posted Terms and Conditions. The current version of these Terms and Conditions is available at www.actstudent.org/privacy/terms.html, and you agree to check for revised Terms and Conditions prior to taking the ACT.

All ACT policies referenced in these Terms and Conditions, including the ACT Privacy Policy (www.act.org/privacy.html), are part of these Terms and Conditions and are binding on you, so you should review them carefully. Any questions should be directed to ACT Student Services (www.actstudent.org/contact-us.html) in advance of registering to test.
